

Security Freeze request to TransUnion Inc.

NOTE: If this is your first time placing a security freeze, there is no fee for requesting it. To remove or temporarily lift the security freeze, you will be charged a fee of up to $5. Subsequent freezes cost $5 to place. At this time, security freezes can be processed online free of charge.

Under New York State law, if you are the victim of identity theft and submit a copy of a police report or a signed copy of a Federal Trade Commission ID Theft Victim Affidavit, you will not be required to pay this fee.

There is also an exception for victims of domestic violence who submit a valid domestic violence incident report, police report, order of protection, or a signed affidavit from certain first responders to domestic violence (such as rape crisis counselors, medical or mental health providers).

TransUnion reserves the right to ask for further proof of identity should the information you provide not be complete or if security warrants it.

The following can be used as proof of address and Social Security number: copies of current driver's license, bank or credit union statement, Medicaid or Medicare card, paycheck stub, state ID card, or W-2 form.

Trans Union will accept letters by U.S. Postal Service at this address:
